FROM THE SECRETARIAT

Dear Friends,

The Australian Catholic Social Justice Council and its Secretariat wish you the joy of Easter.

The reality of the resurrection, and the optimism that is inspired by the promise of salvation stands in contrast to the many conflicts and atrocities committed around the world. Yet it is through the circumstance of turmoil, suffering and despair that we are called to bring hope.

In his Urbi et Orbi message on Easter Sunday, Pope Benedict XVI urged Christians and all people of good will to be open to Christ's redeeming love. He said, 'Today, just as he did with his disciples in Galilee before returning to the Father, the risen Jesus now sends us everywhere as witnesses of his hope, and he reassures us: I am with you always, all days, until the end of the world (cf. Mt 28:20). Fixing the gaze of our spirit on the glorious wounds of his transfigured body, we can understand the meaning and value of suffering, we can tend the many wounds that continue to disfigure humanity in our own day.'

He said that individual, community and international national relationships characterised by selfishness, injustice, hatred and violence are 'scourges of humanity' and 'wounds that torture the souls and bodies of countless of our brothers and sisters'. He called for solutions that will bring peace and restore the common good particularly in African regions like Dafur and Somalia, 'the tormented Middle East' - in the Holy Land, Iraq and Lebanon, and with regard to the latest oppression in Tibet.

He said these regions are crying out for healing and the solidarity of people who 'perform deeds of charity in his name, make an active commitment to justice, and spread luminous signs of hope in areas bloodied by conflict and wherever the dignity of the human person continues to be scorned and trampled. It is hoped that these are precisely the places where gestures of moderation and forgiveness will increase!' (refer: http://www.vatican.va/holy\_father/benedict\_xvi/messages/urbi/documents/hf\_ben-xvi\_mes\_20080323\_urbi-easter\_en.html)

Here in Australia, Church leaders shared in the prayer for peace and renewed commitment that Easter brings.

Archbishop Philip Wilson, President of the Australian Catholic Bishops Conference observed that, 'In the world today, violence seems to be on the increase and the possibility of peace seems ever more distant as the days go on.

'Everywhere we turn, senseless violence is influencing the lives of poor and innocent people and one can be tempted to think that in the midst of all this there is no way for us to make a difference.'

However, in the face of these seemingly hopeless situations he said that people who seek peace in 'the ordinary circumstances of their daily lives', in their communities and through humanitarian and charitable works exemplified the meaning of this season.

'Such actions make the world a better place and are what the Lord requires from those who honour him in his death and resurrection', the Archbishop said. (refer: <http://www.acbc.catholic.org.au/bishops/confpres/200803191558.htm>)

Christian leaders around Australia also highlighted areas of optimism and progress as well those circumstances crying out for healing and new life.

Richard Menteith, National President of the Churches of Christ, affirmed 'it is Jesus we celebrate and it is in acknowledging His death and resurrection we find the answer to the world's problems'.

Highlighting the needs of the most vulnerable members of Australian Society, Rev Dr Ross Clifford, President of the Baptist Union, said 'the death and resurrection of Jesus has implications for our social arrangements as well as our spiritual destiny.' He specifically mentioned how the housing, health and education needs of Indigenous people needed to be a priority for all Australians.

Anglican Primate, Archbishop Phillip Aspinall said, 'last month's bi-partisan apology to the nation's Indigenous people, especially members of the Stolen Generations, was given and received in a spirit of graciousness that prepares the way for the healing of some of the most painful chapters of our national life'.

Rev Gregor Henderson, President of the Uniting Church, emphasised the initiatives of leaders of all faiths, in Australia and internationally, to foster peace and understanding. He mentioned particularly the commitment among Jewish, Christian and Muslim leaders for peace in the Holy Land and observed how 'Jesus came to live and teach God's love for the whole world, not just for his particular followers. This Easter we encourage you to give thanks for Jesus; a man who promoted peace and advocated justice for all humans; and the man whom we Christians worship as Son of God and Saviour of the world'.

The messages of the church leaders can be found on the website of the National Council of Churches in Australia at: http://www.ncca.org.au/media\_releases/080319\_easter\_2008\_messages\_from\_australian\_church\_leaders

May the joy of Easter and the hope renewed by the risen Christ inspire the many works of justice and peace in our nation and around the world.

John Ferguson
National Executive Officer

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF CHURCHES - PEACE IN THE MIDDLE EAST. Leaders of member churches of the National Council of Churches in Australia have issued two important statements concerning peace in the Middle East. At the end of November 2007, the leaders drew attention to the rapidly deteriorating humanitarian crisis in Iraq and highlighted Australia's moral responsibility to help protect Iraqi civilians and those displaced by the violence. They called for a significant increase in aid to Iraq's internally displaced people and refugees. They also called for adequate funds for later repatriation, reintegration, reconstruction and development. (Refer: http://www.ncca.org.au/media\_releases?p=3245)

Early in March, the NCCA passed a series of resolutions on the situation in the Holy Land. Among those resolutions, the NCCA affirms the right of the state of Israel to exist, and to exist within secure internationally-recognised borders, as well as the right of the people of Palestine to be freed from more than 40 years of military occupation by Israel, to live within secure internationally-recognised borders. The Australian Government is encouraged to do all it can to support the current peace negotiations between Palestine and Israel, in the interests of ending the occupation and bringing a just and lasting peace to the peoples of Israel and Palestine. Churches in Australia are encouraged to pray for a just and lasting peace for the peoples of the Holy Land, and to support initiatives for peace. CAMPAIGN, 'STAND UP FOR TIBET'. GetUp is running this campaign to help Australians have a positive influence what is happening in Tibet. A petition calls on the Prime Minister to urge the Chinese Government to respect the human rights of Tibetans and to allow international monitors and journalists access to Tibetan areas. The petition coincides with the lead up to Prime Minister Rudd's meeting with the Chinese President and Premier. For further info and links visit: <http://www.getup.org.au/campaign/StandUpForTibet&id=316>

NEW SERVICE - SAMARITAN ACCOMMODATION. Samaritan Accommodation is a new supported accommodation service that has just opened for adult migrant women who have experienced human trafficking, slavery and/or slavery-like practices. Samaritan Accommodation, based in Sydney is a new initiative of the Salvation Army. The service is now open for referral and brochures will soon be available in community languages. If you would like to make a referral, please call (02) 9211 5794 and ask to speak to a Samaritan Accommodation staff member. They will consider referrals from anywhere in Australia. Please feel free to call if you have a possible referral that you want to discuss or if you are unsure if the referent has experienced trafficking/slavery.

YOUNG JOURNALIST OF THE YEAR AWARD: 'WHAT ARE YOUR WORDS WORTH?' Australian Catholics is calling on students from Catholic schools around Australia to write about what's important to them. Are you passionate about an issue such as homelessness, drug abuse, global poverty or refugees? Do you know someone with an inspiring story to share? By doing some research, conducting an interview, and writing a story - you can help make a difference. The 2008 Australian Catholics Young Journalist Award is open to students in both primary and secondary schools, giving out prizes for the best articles in three sections: 12 and under (winner $200; runner up $100); 13 to 15 ($300; $150) 16 and over ($400; $200). The winning schools from each section will also win $500 each. Entries close 7 July 2008. Winning stories will be published in the Spring 2008 edition of Australian Catholics. For further info and to download an entry form, visit: <http://www.australiancatholics.com.au/content/view/4/9/>

WORLD YOUTH DAY COMMITTEE CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS. With only a few months to go, the countdown to World Youth Day Sydney 2008 (WYD08) is on, and organisers are offering 8,000 domestic and international volunteers the exciting opportunity to help run the largest event Australia has ever hosted. Volunteers will help in many areas including operations and crowd management, customer service, language and translations, staffing, hospitality & catering, accommodation, production, communications, liturgy and evangelization. Volunteers can either work during the event week, 14 - 20 July, or in roles available in the months preceding WYD08. All volunteers must be over the age of 18. WYD08 is taking applications now. For more information and to apply, visit www.wyd2008.org/volunteer or call 02 9390 5997.

INTERNATIONAL EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS IN QUEBEC. The 49th International Eucharistic Congress is scheduled for Quebec, Canada, from 15th to 22nd June this year. These Congresses are extraordinary events in the life of the Universal Church, bringing together large numbers of Catholic people and pastors from throughout the world in week-long celebrations of devotion to Jesus Christ in the Blessed Eucharist. It remains desirable and appropriate, however, that there be a notable contingent of pilgrims from Australia, even though World Youth Day in July is our first priority. People who wish to participate in the Congress are welcome to contact Bishop Patrick Dougherty, the appointed Delegate of the Australian Catholic Bishops' Conference, to arrange registration (P.O. Box 246, Bathurst 2795), phone 02 6331 3611, fax 02 6331 9453, email bishop@bathurst.catholic.org.au; fee for necessary registration ($Can 230 = $Aus 250 approx.)

CAMPAIGN - 'KEEP POWER IN OUR HANDS'. The Australian Fair Trade and Investment Network (AFTINET) is supporting a community campaign against NSW electricity privatisation. Responding to the NSW Government's plan to sell its electricity retail business and lease its power generating plants to private companies, the campaign organisers say that privatisation will not increase government income, it will mean that profits will come before the environment, and the government will have less ability to regulate a vital public service. Privatisation will mean higher prices for an essential service and the likelihood of more blackouts. The campaign website provides the means to send a message to the Premier and to get a petition to sign, and take to your family, friends and community group. Visit www.stoptheselloff.org.au for more information.

18-19 APRIL. CONFERENCE: 'BEYOND THE NEO-CON MEN: ALTERNATIVES AFTER HOWARD' (NSW). Is neo-conservatism in the history books? And what next for the growing political and social movements - how can they build their power? How do they produce allies, organisations, legitimacy, inspiration, vision? Held on the opening day of the new Government's 2020 summit, this conference, open to all, explores strategy and action for alternative 2020 visions. Fri evening, then all day Sat, at Sydney Mechanics School of Arts, 280 Pitt Street, Sydney. To ensure a place pre-register at: james.goodman@uts.edu.au

22 APRIL. NATIONAL CLOSE THE GAP DAY (NATIONAL). National Close the Gap Day gives Australians the opportunity to come together and show their support for closing the 17-year life expectancy gap between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders and other Australians. This campaign has come a long way in the past 12 months. Organise your own small-scale event to celebrate the gains that have been made and to remind our governments that you expect them to meet their recent commitments to Close the Gap. Web: <http://www.oxfam.org.au/events/close-the-gap-day>

23 APRIL. PUBLIC LECTURE: 'WAR AS CRIME' (QLD). In the past two decades there has been a revival of interest in international criminal law. This renaissance has been stimulated by the wars in Sierra Leone, Cambodia, Afghanistan and Iraq, and the establishment of the world's first permanent international criminal court. This lecture considers a particular, and perhaps idiosyncratic, project within this field: namely, the attempt to criminalise war itself. 5:00 - 6:30pm, University of Queensland Library Conference Room, Level 1, Building #2 (Duhig Building), St Lucia Campus.

30 APRIL. PUBLIC LECTURE: 'CARING FOR COUNTRY: AN OVERVIEW OF ABORIGINAL LAND MANAGEMENT IN THE TOP END OF THE NORTHERN TERRITORY.' (ACT). Owing and managing lands of such significance brings with it many diverse challenges. In the mid 1990s, to better meet these challenges, Aboriginal traditional landowners in the tropical savannah of the NT began to formalise their land and sea management activities through the establishment of the Caring for Country programme or what are commonly referred to as ranger groups. To date the Caring for Country programme has grown to include over 36 groups with up to 400 Aboriginal people employed in land and sea management. This seminar provides an overview of the Caring for Country programme and examines how and why it works, as well as some of the challenges that the programme faces. Presented by Sean Kerins, Research Fellow, Centre for Aboriginal Economic Policy Research. 12:30pm - 2:00pm, Humanities Conference Room, First Floor, A.D. Hope Bldg #14 (opposite Chifley Library), The Australian National University, Canberra. Telephone: (02)6125 0587; email: admin.caep@anu.edu.au.
